The fabulous-indeed-weekend will take place on October 7-9, and early bookings are essential. As an events organizer and importer of fine boutique wines, Fin is no stranger to gourmands in Thailand, having been responsible for some much-talked-about events. The company is a distributor of so-called 'boutique wines' (handcrafted wines of limited production), sold exclusively to five-star hotels, high-end boutique resorts and top restaurants. Fueled by a passion for an enjoyment of life, and more particularly the finer things in life, Fin deliberately seeks out places and experiences that best complement their fine wines.
